

A Tribute to a Visionary

The Little Black Dress Cabinet was originally conceived by the late Judson Beaumont, a visionary designer whose work seamlessly blended creativity and craftsmanship. Known for pushing the boundaries of design, Judson first brought this concept to life in wood, using beautiful veneers to craft a piece that was both playful and elegant.

At Opus Garage, we were honored to collaborate with Jud to reimagine this iconic work of art in 14-gauge steel. This recreation not only celebrates Judson's original design but also showcases the precision and craftsmanship that define our Masterworks by Opus program.

Timeless Design, Reimagined

This cabinet, now crafted from durable steel, is finished in Ferrari Nero Black paint with a striking Rosso Corsa interior. It retains the whimsical, elegant curves of Judson's design while elevating it into a new dimension of functionality. Suspended from a custom CNC-milled aluminum hanger, it stands as a testament to the possibilities of design thinking and the pursuit of perfection.

Honoring a Legacy

Judson Beaumont was more than a designer; he was an inspiration. His sudden passing in 2020 was a profound loss to the design world, but his spirit lives on in creations like this one. At Opus Garage, we are proud to have had the opportunity to bring his iconic design into a new medium, ensuring that his legacy endures in a way that is both functional and timeless.
